Laminate Tubes: Versatile Package

Montebello uses advanced technology to combine the physical integrity of aluminum with the appealing look and feel of plastic resulting in a tough, long-lasting tube that resists surface flaws.

The laminate web stock is made up of polyethylene surrounding a "barrier" that is either foil or non-foil. Laminate is ideal for products that require maximum compatibility, flavor and fragrance protection with reduced absorption.

Offer a different look and feel for your brand with Laminate. Montebello provides various Laminates in a range of Foil Laminate and Plastic Barrier Laminate materials, each with their own properties and thickness to meet your specifications. The layers combine to form a highly effective shield that protects against light, air and moisture penetration
