

Montebello Packaging is a world-class manufacturer of packaging for the pharmaceutical, food, and cosmetic industries. The company is an operating division of the Jim Pattison Group, a $8.1 billion dollar Canadian conglomerate. Montebello Packaging operates four facilities in North America with 400 employees. Located in Hawkesbury, Ontario, the company has an opportunity for a talented:

“MAINTENANCE TECHNICIAN”

Job description:

- Start date: As soon as possible
- Duration: Permanent
- The Maintenance Technician will perform preventive maintenance and scheduled repairs on various production and facility equipment. Will also perform emergency repairs and assist with equipment installations as needed.

Skills:

- Superior troubleshooting abilities in electrical controls, hydraulic, pneumatic and mechanical assemblies.
- Operate various machine shop equipment including: lathes, welding equipment, grinders, saws and drills for the repairs or modification of production equipment.
- Ability to use equipment documentation, troubleshooting guides and other means to solve equipment breakdowns.
- Basic understanding of PLC's and drive controllers.

Tasks:

- Perform Repairs and equipment installations throughout the manufacturing facility.
- Dismantle devices to gain access to parts requiring inspection or repair.
- Inspect equipment to identify possible failures and repair or schedule repairs as needed.
- Communicate the completion of all work performed by filling out a maintenance request or preventive maintenance forms.
- Communicate the status of all incomplete tasks.
- Make recommendations and implement improvements to equipment for productivity, safety and regulatory compliance.
- Participate in equipment and facilities maintenance program.

What We Are Looking For:

- Team Player.
- Good communication
- Relatable Mechanical and electrical experiences.

Requirements:

- Certificate of Qualification (Certified Millwright)

Montebello offers competitive conditions of employment in a stimulating working environment.

Qualified individuals are invited to submit their candidature to: dmenard@montebellopkg.com